FREE: Amiga 500 tower setup

A local dude here in San Antonio gave away a Amiga 500 tower kit. I didnt want to see it thrown away and I did not want to take it apart to sell it in pieces. I want to give it to someone who would appreciate it and use it. Now, I will NOT SHIP, PERIOD. You come and get it. If nobody wants it, I'll leave it in storage w/my other Amiga systems.

Here's some info on it:

Re: FREE: Amiga 500 tower setup

This was one of the first Amiga projects I found online when I started messing with Amiga stuff. Definitely worth a bit of a trip to pick it up, bit too far even for me though.

Re: FREE: Amiga 500 tower setup

Tom Weeks finally getting rid of the A500 Tower? Too bad. That thing is famous IMO. I spent many an hour back in the 90's looking over that page and his documentation on Aminet dreaming of doing my own Tower project. I finally started doing my own projects back in late 03, starting with a 3000 tower conversion. Most recently I have my 128 Tower conversion, seen in my avatar. Tom was a major inspiration.

I hope it goes to a good home, someone who doesn't split it up. Free is a steal for this slice of history.

Oh, man. That site and system are legendary to folks like me. How many times I visited his page over the years for hacks and note comparisons as I built up my amiga boxes. If it wern't such a ridiculous distanace for me, that system would be warming my desktop this evening. Does Tom plan to vacate the site too?

Re: FREE: Amiga 500 tower setup

I dont know what Tom is going to do with his site. I didnt ask, he's a busy guy w/various projects goin on. Yea, I've seen this tower at a few Amiga meetings (when we used to have them). Its awesome. If nobody takes it, it wouldnt matter, I'd keep it

Re: FREE: Amiga 500 tower setup

I hope Tom leaves his site up ;if someone could archive it on a DVD that would be cool.Probably a lot of sites go away without anyone saving the arcane info.

Re: FREE: Amiga 500 tower setup

ok, I changed my mind.. I'll TRADE it for a Mac Mini G4. I'll pay shipping (USA) on this monster, you pay shipping in yours.

I just dont have time to mess with my Amiga stuff (no motivation)..but I would mess around with a Mac Mini.
